Digital technologies and content are increasingly featured in tackling social challenges in areas ranging from education to healthcare, to migration and the environment. This is being called Digital Social Innovation (DSI), a phrase coined by Nesta and the EU across various projects and research initiatives.

This stream aims to gather contributions which will showcase the development and impact of digital technologies used for social good, where they affect collaborative economies and open democracies, where they lead to enhanced employability and meaningful social change.

We are looking for global perspectives to share experiences of where digital tools, networks, content, and engagement can empower citizens, researchers and governments.

Guidelines:

Paper abstracts must be maximum 300 words, excluding references. They should articulate: the research objectives or questions being addressed; the conceptual or theoretical perspectives informing the work; where appropriate, the methodology utilised; and the contribution of the paper to knowledge in light of the conference themes.

Optional full paper submission for consideration in best paper awards is due no later than 31st July 2019.

A maximum of two abstracts may be submitted per presenter (joint papers to be presented by coauthors will also be considered).

All paper abstracts must be submitted to isirc2019@gcu.ac.uk. On abstract submission please ensure you advise the conference stream.

Panel proposals must be maximum 400 words, excluding references. They should include: the panel purpose and its relationship to the nominated conference stream; details of (minimum) three and (maximum) four papers and paper presenters to be included in the panel; and the expected contribution to the panel.

All panel proposals must be submitted to isirc2019@gcu.ac.uk.

Abstract and panel proposals submission: Closes 28th February 2019
Decision on submissions: Notification by 31st March 2019
Full papers submitted for consideration in best paper awards due: 31st July 2019
